Jason Fulford

Jason Fulford (coauthor, b. 1973, Atlanta) is a photographer and cofounder of the non-profit J&L Books. Fulford’s photographs—and, in particular, his photobooks—are enigmatic, ambiguous, and profound. By embracing these qualities, he has expanded the possibilities for his practice and for the photographic medium. He is a contributing editor at Blind Spot and a frequent lecturer at universities. His monographs include Sunbird (2000), Crushed (2003), Raising Frogs for $$$ (2006), The Mushroom Collector (2013), and The Photographer’s Playbook, published by Aperture in 2014.

Tamara Shopsin

Tamara Shopsin (coauthor, b. 1979, New York) is a graphic designer and illustrator whose work has been featured in the New York Times, GOOD, Time, Wired, and Newsweek. She is the author of Mumbai New York Scranton and designer of 5 Year Daily. She is also a cook at her family’s restaurant, Shopsin’s, in New York.
